THE STATE FAIR.

THE OPENING DAY.

A Small Crowd but a Good Show.

The State Fair opened yesterday morning. About ten o'clock the marshals, eighteen in number, left the Yarborough House, headed by Stanley's band and followed by His Excellency Gov. Brogden and Col. Thomas M. Holt, President of the State Agricultural Society, riding in a carriage. Arriving at the fair grounds, the audience assembled in the grand stand, when Col. Holt arose and said that the 16th annual fair of the State Agricultural Society would be formally opened by

AN ADDRESS BY HIS EXCELLENCY the Governor.

His Excellency then proceeded to read an address which he had prepared for the occasion. It congratulated the people upon the general good health and prosperity of the State, and reminded them that agriculture and the mechanic arts, for the promotion of which we are assembled, are the very ground work of our material prosperity. He enumerated the staple and entered into a lengthy and interesting history of the growth of cotton in this country and State. This was stated to be a source whence springs much of our revenue, and His Excellency traced its early history, the manner of its ginning, carding and spinning in early times, and spoke of the great improvement which has been made in these as in every other branch of industry. The people were congratulated upon having their lots cast in so goodly a State. His Excellency had attended the Southern Industrial Fair at New Orleans last February, and except in the matter of tropical fruits, it did not exceed those which had been held so far as the character of the products on exhibition was concerned. The speech was full and exhaustive as to our agricultural and mechanical improvement within the last half century, and was calculated to stir within his hearers the spirit of State pride in which we are, unfortunately, too much lacking.

PRODUCTIONS OF THE STATE,

IN OUR OWN STATE,

After this address, those present had an opportunity to stroll over the grounds and through the hall, and see what was to be seen in the line of exhibitions. Of course it was not expected that the attendance should be large on the first day, nor was it; yet everything considered it was respectable, and as to the exhibition, this was surprising to everyone, for it cannot but be admitted that grave fears were entertained lest the fair should prove a failure. It cannot do it, for already the display in some lines is better than it ever was before.

THE MACHINERY DEPARTMENT

is thus far more indifferently filled than any other on the grounds, yet additions were made to it during the day, and many articles were received last evening which will be exhibited to-day for the first time. Some of the most noticeable of the exhibitions in this line yesterday, are here mentioned: Our townsmen, Messrs. McCallum & Cooper, have two beautiful engines on the grounds, of the Hope patent; one of these is a twelve horse and the other an eight horse power engine, both from the shops of the gentlemen named. Messrs. Talbott & Son, of Richmond, have also on exhibition an eight horse power engine, and Godwin, of Norfolk, one of four horse power. The South Bend Plow Works, of South Bend, Indiana, have a specimen of the Oliver Chilled Plow. Cider mills represent the Old Dominion Works, Richmond, and a specimen of the mechanical ingenuity of our own State is seen in the Sweepstakes Washer from E. W. Watson, of Wilson. Brideford & Huffman exhibit three grain drills, which took the first prize at the Centennial Exhibition; also Bradley's reversible pulverizing harrow (two rakes); the Tiger self-dumping hay rake, the Archer self dumping hay rake, and an Eclipse agricultural engine six horse power. The hay rakes mentioned have been generously donated to the society, and we desire our readers to remember the liberality of this firm, which is represented by that well-known and popular gentleman H. P. Underhill, Esq., of Baltimore, who still holds forth in the striped tent. Joshua Thomas, of Baltimore, exhibits a Sweepstakes thresher and Buckeye mower and reaper, a reaper with table rake attachment, Buckeye mower with dropper, and a mower of the same kind with reaper attachment, and a Continental feed cutter, which he has liberally contributed to the society. Also a specimen of the Ilion sulky horse rake. A further report of this department will be made to-day when it is fuller.

THE STOCK DEPARTMENT

This has never been fuller or better since the organization of the society particularly as to horses. There are many of these, and some of them are particularly fine. Mr W. B. Myers, of Goldsboro brings a stable of four thoroughbreds. Dr. L. Staton, of Tarboro, has two. Mr C. T. Walker of Charlotte, brings Eliza Hyatt, a blooded animal, and Mr. Geo. Chambers, of the same city, two animals, both of which will probably enter the races. Mr. James Norwood, of Orange, as usual, contributes largely to the exhibition. He has three thoroughbred horses, not to speak of sheep and hogs, making a total of thirty-one. Major Lynch, of Orange, also has a horse and mare, both fine. Mr. J. A. Haywood, of this city, has on exhibition his fine horse, Henry Clay, which took the premium last year. Mr. Robt. Williams exhibits his horse Buckskin, and Mr. Geo. H. Williams his mare Skipper. One of the finest saddle horses on the grounds is exhibited by Messrs Beck and Garner, of Granville county. There are a number of draught horses and brood mares in the stables, and three or four stallions. The exhibition as to the horses is excellent. The other lines of live stock are also full, but as many other animals are to come in to-day, having arrived last evening, we omit further report of the stock department until our next issue. The parade of stock on the race track did not take place yesterday afternoon, it being determined to postpone this until to-day, when a large crowd is reasonably expected.

FLORAL HALL

is very beautiful, and no mistake. Many express the opinion that the exhibition here was never better, and certainly it is strikingly full, beautiful and interesting. Facing one as one climbs the second story, is the department of donations to the society. This will be fuller to-day and a notice of it is deferred for the present. We hastily sketch the notable contents of this room, beginning with the exhibition of all manner of beautiful things from the jewelry store of H. Mahler. A quantity of work from the hands of Mrs. J. E Dugger is deserving of especial mention; this consists of wax flowers, a rustic etagere of shell and peach seeds, surmounted by other and equally ingenious work in rosin and wax; in this is a full set of furniture, very diminutive, made of peacock feathers. There is also a pine bur frame of artistic workmanship, a shell fire screen, (large) and some rich work in baskets, representing in wax fruits of different kinds. This exhibition from Mrs. Dugger is also over a visit to the fair.

Next to this follows a quantity of fine needle work—embroidery, children's dress, boy's waists, &c.

Mrs. Sophia Partridge exhibits two panel pictures, representing a lilly, a calla lilly and a lilly of the valley These are very rich. There is a painting between these more beautiful than they, representative of different fruits. This is as perfectly natural as anything produced upon canvass can be Above it is a large and well executed drawing of a sylvan scene.

A human hand from the pyramid of Guize, near Thebes, Egypt, attracted attention here. It is petrified, and is exhibited by Dr. McLeod, of the McLeod Surgical Institute, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. W. O. Wolfe has on exhibition a beautiful prayer book and bible, made of marble, gilt edged, and deserving of notice.

A large tortoise shell comb, for a lady's back hair, is to be seen in this department. It is immense in size, such as were worn by court ladies of old. It is the property of Mrs. Eliza Taylor.

We come now to the most wonderful and interesting feature of the whole exhibition. This is a quantity of work which was sent from the Insane Asylum. There is a picture intended to represent Pocahontas; it is made of tapestry, with calico ravelings, after the Egyptian style There is also what was intended to be an Egyptian beauty, which was worked in the same style and of the same material. It was done by Fannie Davenport, an insane woman from Ellenton, and demonstrates one of the many curious fancies which flit through the brain of the demented, for it is very sure that to no sane person would any such ideas ever occur. The same poor creature has on exhibition a crayon sketch of a boat race on the Chowan, and what is more remarkable than anything yet mentioned, a sketch of the tomb of Washington, with Washington standing at the head-stone. The visitor to the fair should hunt these things out. There comes from the same institution a quantity of crochet work, gloves and stockings, made simply with a brass pin.

Mrs Henry Hunter has sent a number of paper pictures, cut with scissors, and representing birds and various other living things in addition to motions cut in them.

In this part of the hall is a fine rayon sketch named "Dignity and Impudence." It was executed by Miss Bessie Batchelor.

Hair work, in a frame of autumn leaves, and forty-five different varieties of native grasses in a single bunch, are of the attractions here.

Mrs. Mary Lucas, of Raleigh, a lady eighty-two years of age, exhibits thirty-three pieces of embroidery, executed by herself without the aid of glasses, and a display of lace which is the admiration of all the ladies who have seen it. The work is beautiful beyond question, and has attracted, as it deserves, great notice. Mrs. Mary Yancey makes a fine show by thirty pieces of embroidery, but Mrs. Lucas has the largest display of any one lady.

A little further around the hall the visitor is shown a hearth rug, heavy and pretty, made by Mrs. Mary Gregory, of Granville county, a lady seventy years of age. Every particle of the border, and every particle of the material used in it, was made by her own hands, and the dyeing was also done by her.

The Charlottesville Woolen Mills display twenty six yards of beautiful cassimeres, which cannot but take the eyes of the gentlemen.

Messrs Tucker and A. Creech have on exhibition very handsome and tastefully arranged specimens from their respective stocks of goods.

Mr. J. W. Watson, the excellent photographer, makes a fine show from his art gallery.

On the reverse side of the wall to this is the exhibition of Mr. C. C. Clawson. The window shades which go either to the top or the bottom of the window, at will, is a feature here, as is also a home-made lambequin, which is decidedly pretty. There are numerous paper hangings and parlor ornaments, all the latter of which were made here in Raleigh.

Mr. Eugene L. Harris, of Sassafras Fork, Granville county, has a number of crayon drawings of different gentlemen, which are really very fine. Among these are Gov. Bragg, Gov. Graham, Gov. Vance, Hon. A. W. Venable, and others.

This is sufficient for one day, for the second story of the general exhibition hall. Not half has been mentioned. The neglected articles will be taken up in our next issue.

Below, as one enters the hall, in the North extension, are the farm and garden products, sewing machines in the middle, &c., &c. In the western extension are vehicles from the shops of N. S Harp and Geo. Batchelder, furniture, hardware display, &c. Neither of these parts of the hall is full, and for the present we only generalize.

Between the two extensions, Messrs W. C & A. B. Stronach show finely of their stock of light groceries—canned goods, cheese, preserves jellies, &c.

Mr. A. D. Royster exhibits largely from his stock of elegant home-made candies

Mrs. G. W. Blacknall exhibits a magnificent lot of cakes and bread, the former highly ornamented and very tempting.

Mrs. Stronach also exhibits beautiful ornamental cakes, and a quantity of bread also.

There are wines from different varieties of grapes, from the Thomasberg vineyard, near this city.

The display of native apples (by three exhibitors) and of green-house plants, is excellent. As to these, more anon.

The above is merely an outline. We assure our friends that the exhibition is well worth seeing. It surprises the most sanguine friends of the society, and the success of the first day, as to the display, should and no doubt will draw a large crowd for each successive day.

THE RACES

booked for the day came off as advertised. The first one took place at 12 o'clock. It was the breeder's purse, $50, best 2 in 3 to harness for colts 3 years old and under. The entries were Cynthia, by Harvell, of Kinston, and Charlie Ross, by Buck Lyon, of Raleigh. The mare won the race in two straight heats; time, 1:55, 1:55.

Second Race.—Running race, single dash, ½ mile, purse $25. Entries: Arapahoe, by L. L. Staton, of Tarboro; Hope, by Dozier and Dancy, of Tarboro. Hope got the pole. After a long while a start was got. Hope led the other animal, and though hardly pressed, from first to last, maintained her advantage and came out an even length ahead. Time, 53 seconds.

Third Race—Running race, one mile dash, purse $50. Entries: Jenipher, by L. L. Staton, of Tarboro, and Eliza Hyatt, by C. T. Walker, of Charlotte. The mare got the inside track in the drawing for places. After a couple of false starts a pretty fair start off was finally secured, and the mare jumped ahead. At the end of the first quarter, however, Jenipher passed her and Eliza never regained her advantage. She lost constantly and the horse came in considerably ahead; time 1:53.

This ended the day's racing and, virtually, the day. It should be remarked as we close, (and we do so hoping to see a large turnout to-day) that the marshals, who are named below, preserved good order during the day, and discharged their duties acceptably. They were: T. P Devereux, of Wake, Chief, Maj. J. M. Crenshaw, of Wake, Capt. J. H. Whitaker, of Halifax, Duncan Cameron, of Orange, S. H. Webb, of Orange, Frank Stronach, of Wake, S. F. Mordecai, of Wake, G. M. Smedes, of Wake, H. S. Whitaker, of Wake, J. R. Dunn, of Wake, Frank Dunn, of Wake, W. W. Green, of Franklin, J. G. Lockhart, of Northampton, H. C. Jones, of Wake, W. P. Batchelor, of Wake, Alpheus Jones, of Wake, Jos. McCullers, of Wake.

We append, in conclusion, a programme of Personal.

W. P. Williamson, of Tarboro, is in the city.

Governor Brogden, and Hon. John Pool, Superintendent of Public Instruction, leave to-day to fill an appointment for speaking at Snow Hill. We learn that they have appointments in the east that will occupy the remainder of this week and all of next.

Attorney General Hargrove is at his home, in Oxford, still sick but improving.

Miss Mattie Tyler, a granddaughter of the late President Tyler, is in the city on a visit to her relative, Mrs. W. P. Wetherell.

J. P. Leach, formerly of this city, but now a successful farmer in Halifax county, is here for the fair. His many friends will be glad to greet him.

Rev. E. A. Wilson, editor of that sterling journal, the Masonic Journal, is at the National.

W. A. Davis, the brighest light of that sparkling paper, the Oxford Torchlight, illuminated our office yesterday afternoon with his handsome and genial face.

Dr. G. W. Graham has returned from the Centennial and will hereafter be found at his office, over the drug store of Pescud, Lee & Co., regularly.

Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, excellent farmer and elegant gentleman, is in the city attending the fair.

Mr. E. L. Harriss, the talented young crayon artist, of Granville county, is in the city.

Lost in London.

This thrilling drama was presented at Tucker Hall last night by Boyd's Star Combination, with great acceptability to the audience. The part of Nellie Armroyd is rather too emotional to take well with a promiscuous audience, but it is an undeniable fact that Miss Richmond played it very finely. Job Armroyd was excellen ly represented by Mr. Harrison, and Mrs. Drew was quite successful in her personation of Tilly Dragglethorpe. Some of the support was below ordinary, but these had minor parts and did not detract from the general effect. The drama was well put upon the stage, everything worked smoothly, and the performance was a success. Mr. Sheridan played Gilbert Featherstone well. He is an actor of decided parts.

Toodles, which followed, was excellent. Harrison showed himself entirely at home, and won fresh laurels. He is a talented artist. Here again Mrs. Drew played well. It was a pleasant evening, and the success which attended the two pieces should secure a good house to-night to see "Black-Eyed Susan."

Parade of Stock.

We are requested to announce that there will be a daily parade of live stock at the fair between the hours of 11 A. M. and 12 M. Owners of stock are requested to make a note of this and be prepared to act accordingly.

A. C. Sanders & Co. are paying the best prices for cotton. You would do well to see them before selling elsewhere. They sell groceries much cheaper than any other grocer. Call and see them.

VOTE for the Amendments.

READ the address of the State Executive Committee of our party to the voters of North Carolina. It is a well-timed, concise and able statement of the election law, and contains good advice to the citizens of the State. If it is met in the spirit in which it is written, by the Democratic voters throughout the State, it will accomplish much for our cause.

FOR the decade ending in 1830, the detected frauds on the revenue, as exhibited in the total of fines, penalties and forfeiture, were in all $9,537. For the decade ending with 1860, they were $177,389. For the decade ending with 1870, they were $4,219,980. For the five years 1869-'73, they were $4,391,159. Yet in these years the temptation to fraud, as measured by the reduction in the rates of duties, was at least 20 per cent. less, than in the previous decade; but the rascality of the officials was a thousand per centage greater.

THE TICKET TO VOTE.

We place at the head of our editorial columns the ticket to be voted at the Presidential box, by the friends of Reform. It is entirely different from the article going the rounds of the press "How to vote at the Ensuing Election." The tickets to be voted do not have Tilden and Hendricks' names printed upon them. A vote for the Democratic electoral ticket is a vote for Tilden and Hendricks. No distinction must be made on the ballot, between electors at large and electors for the districts.

Another vital error occurs in the article above mentioned. The last paragraph, numbered 6, reads, "Constitutional Amendment Ticket—'Adopted.'" Now this is wrong, and would vitiate the ballot We quote the exact language of the bill that passed, regulating and prescribing the manner of voting on the Amendments to the Constitution. Section 1 contains the following:

"That every person entitled to vote under the existing Constitution and laws of this State, shall be entitled to vote for the ratification or rejection of said amendments; those who wish a ratification of the amendments voting with a printed or written ticket, 'Ratification,' those of a contrary opinion 'Rejection.'"

HAMPTON'S PROSPECTS.

The editor of the Charlotte Observer was present at the great Hampton demonstration at Rock Hill, South Carolina. He says:

We never saw such determination among men, and if you ask them whether they expect to elect Hampton, they will laugh in your face. The tide has set in, and the yeomen of that State are aroused as probably a people never were before aroused. A feeling of their wrongs seems pictured on their faces, and it reminded us of the determination of the honest Peggotty when in the search of his lost and loved Emily. Elect Hampton? We know he will be elected by an overwhelming vote, if the people have anything like a fair election; and Chamberlain might as well go with Mrs. Partington, take a broom-stick, and attempt to sweep back the tide of the Atlantic, as to attempt to keep them from the polls. To the polls they are going if they have to march through an avenue of bayonets a mile long.

THE indications are that thousands of colored men in this State will vote the Democratic ticket. The black line is breaking up. The negroes are beginning to find out that 80,000 men of their race do the voting in North Carolina, and about sixteen thousand white men get the offices, honors and profits. Such respectable colored men as Bryant Lunn, Robert H. Thrower, Garland H. White, and other leaders in this movement, are determined not to be hewers of wood and drawers of water any longer for selfish carpet-baggers and scallawags.

GEN. JAMES M. LEACH is doing effective service wherever he goes. In the east, we are informed, he not only converts white men to the good cause of Democratic reform, but under his eloquent arguments and appeals, even colored men are joining our ranks. His canvass in the West with General R. B Vance, promises to be one of the most brilliant of this campaign. The appointments of of these two gentlemen appear in another column of to day's paper.

THE State Democratic Executive Committee of South Carolina have issued a call to the people to set apart Thursday, the 26th day of the present month, as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer. This is something entirely novel in a political campaign. Was ever a people so oppressed in a time of peace as to go down on their knees in prayer to the Almighty for relief?

THE Democrats are fighting the battle of Truth, the Republicans a battle of lies. Truths are often trite, and there is no trite saying more true than the one which our leader, Samuel J. Tilden, takes for his motto, and often quotes in moments of doubt or difficulty:

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again,
The eternal years of God are hers."

OF all political vipers, the blackmailer is the most deadly and most despicable. There is positive proof that William A. Wheeler, Republican candidate for Vice-President of the United States, and Edwin D. Morgan, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, are just such vipers.

THE Democratic press of the North, as well as the South, fairly teem with rejoicings over last Tuesday's victory. The election of Tilden is generally regarded now as a certainty. It is conceded that New York will decide the contest; and it is hardly possible for the Republicans to overcome the Democratic majority there.

THREE weeks more, and the general election will be upon us. The time is short. Work, everybody, who desires to see his country redeemed from misrule.

MORE work and less talk from now until the 7th of November.

PERSONAL.

Prince Arthur is shortly to be promoted from his present honorary rank of major to the lieutenant colonelcy of the 10th Hussars.

George Thompson, of Newport, a colored man and formerly a slave has just returned to that place from the South with his wife, whom he has found after a separation of fifty years.

Eben Adams, Robert Townsend, D. R. P. Dimmick and Henry Matthews have been appointed revenue storekeepers for the Sixth district of Kentucky, and E. T. Clark and D. A. Maxwell for the second district of Georgia.

The Rev. Joseph Cook, at Boston, remarked last Monday, in a reference to Woodhull, that there are "two Victorias in the world, one at the top and the other at the bottom of her sex; let us sing, 'My soul, be on thy guard.'"

Edmonia Lewis, the colored sculptress whose works are attracting much attention at the Centennial, was born in a wigwam in Greenbush, N. Y. Her mother was an Indian and her father a negro. She has travelled largely in Europe, crossed the Alps and visited Rome and Florence. Her masterpiece is the "Death of Cleopatra."

Judge Doolittle was interrupted the other night while making a speech in Chicago by some one yelling out, "How about the rebel debt?" "The rebel debt," said the judge, "why, sir, those bonds read on their face, payable two years after the United States government recognizes the Confederacy;' now when will they fall due?" Here some one in the crowd shouted out "never." "No," said Doolittle, "it will be two years after never."

H. A. Gudger is the Democratic candidate for the House of Representatives in Madison county. W. W. Rollins is his Republican apponent.

The news from Surry county is of a very cheering character. A well informed gentleman informs the Mt. Airy Watchman that the Democrats will gain 75 votes in Dobson township alone.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The New York Post considers that the lack of the Grant-Hayes campaign was broken by the result in Indiana and Ohio.

The Washington Star, a rabid Republican paper, claims Tuesday's election as a substantial Republican, but says that it wasn't decisive enough to settle the Presidential questton.

Since Judge Moses and Mackey have declared against the programme of Chamberlain in South Carolina, the Washington Republican has discovered that they are very corrupt men.

The average Republican majority in Presidential years since 1860 has been in Indiana 7,566, and in Ohio 24,285. It is no gust of transient passion that has wrought this great change in the minds of the people; it is the strong and steady flood that will sweep the land before it subsides.

Electors meet at their respective State capitols on the first Wednesday of December of the year in which they were elected, vote by ballot for President and Vice President, and transmit a record of their votes to the President of the United States Senate. An elector could vote contrary to the wishes of those who elected him, but such an instance has never been known.

Some of our fishermen, says the Newbern Nut Shell, recently caught near Newbern, a strange looking customer of the fish species It is called a Remora, is about eighteen inches long, of a slender shape, perfectly black, without scales and has an oval sucking disk on top of the head, which causes it to present a funny appearance for a fish. Although a stranger in our waters, the Remora is by no means unknown along the sea coast and is fabled as having stopped ships, in olden times, by the strong sucking powers of the disk.

THE ELECTION LAWS.

Address of Democratic Conservative Committee.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 17, 1876.

To the Voters of North Carolina:

Supervisors of election have been appointed for the eastern, and are now being selected for the western, district of our State. It is to be remembered that no acts of intimidation or disturbances have heretofore been reported as having occurred at any polling places in North Carolina, even during the most exciting elections through which we have passed. In addition, we were informed indefinitely that these federal supervisors were not considered necessary and were not desired by either party, in several counties. Yet we find that they have been applied for with a uniformity that is remarkable. This cannot fail to strike the unprejudiced observer that there is a hidden meaning in this new and extraordinary movement. It is certain that this dangerous innovation did not originate with the people of North Carolina; and we feel assured it will not receive the countenance of our quiet, law-loving citizens.

Each voter should exercise the constitutional right of casting his vote freely and without intimidation, and we should not be content with less, believing with Mr. Jefferson, that "error may be safely tolerated when reason is left free to comtat it."

In order that every one may clearly comprehend his rights and duties, we respectfully call attention to the following concise digest of the election laws, which was carefully prepared by one of the most eminent members of our bar, and which, after examination, we adopt as our own:

To the Editor of the News:

"1. There shall be an election held on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1876, for Governor, Lieut. Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Attorney-General; and also for members of the General Assembly; for County Treasurers, Registers of Deeds, County Surveyors, County Commissioners, Coroners and Sheriffs; also for members of the House of Representatives of Congress, and Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

All these elections—State and Federal—shall be held at the times and places and in the manner, as may be prescribed by the Legislature; but, "Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations," as to the elections of Representatives for Congress.

2. The County Commissioners are by law, vested with the power to establish the places of election in each township and ward of a city having 3,000 inhabitants

Each voter shall register his name before he votes; and the County Commissioners shall select some one person in each township as registrar for that precinct, whose duty it shall be to register the name of each person who may desire to vote, and who, within a specified time before the day of election, shall present his name, if in the judgment of the registrar he shall be qualified to vote.

3 The County Commissioners shall, at each place of election, appoint four judges or inspectors of election, two of whom shall be of a different political party, where possible, from the registrar of that place of election."

The judges of election and the registrar, on the day of, and previous, to the election, shall be sworn by a justice of the peace "to conduct the election fairly and impartially according to the constitution and laws of the State." "They shall keep poll books, in which shall be entered the name of every person who shall vote; and at the closes of the election the judges shall certify the same over their signatures."

"The polls shall be opened on the day of election from seven o'clock in the morning until sunset of the same day; and each voter whose name may appear registered, and who shall not be challenged and rejected shall hand in his ballots to the judges who shall carefully deposit the ballots in the ballot boxes." "The ballots shall be on white paper and may be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, and without device."—See Bat. Rev. c. 52. S. 4 11 and 16. Acts. of '73 '74 c. 132. s. 12. '74 '75, c. 237; s. 5 Cons. U. S. art. 1 sec. 4 p. 1. art. 2. s. 1 p. 2. State cons. art. 6. s. 2"

And here we would remind our friends that no one has a right to inspect the ticket of any person who may offer to vote, and to do so without his consent is a clear violation of the law.

It is the duty of the judges of election to provide separate ballot boxes for the State officers, and members of the General Assembly, county officers, and the Constitutional Amendments, the proper vote for which is "Ratification," with none of which have the Federal supervisors, as such, any right whatever to interfere. They are also to provide boxes for Representatives in Congress, and Presidential Electors, and with these alone have the supervisors any right to interfere, the State elections being conducted entirely under the election laws of North Carolina.

We would, therefore, advise our friends to have as far as possible their boxes for State officers so arranged that they may be voted in first, in order that if there are any challenges or wrangles made by supervisors, the contest may arise in regard merely to federal officers and not affect the election for those of the State.

It is not contemplated by the law that there shall be more than one set of registration books, and supervisors, judges of election, and all others are advised that the supervisors of election can challenge, scrutinize, count or have to do, only with the voters as they present themselves and their ballots at the boxes for Federal officers.

We urge upon the Judges of election to perform their duty fearlessly and faithfully, and to guard and protect the purity of the ballot-box, and to afford every qualified voter a free opportunity to cast his ballot for the candidate of his choice.

We call upon every citizen to preserve and maintain the peace on the day of election, and to that end, to exercise the utmost forbearance, and thus deprive the unscrupulous of even a pretext for creating a disturbance and enabling partizan Federal officials to wrest from the people the signal victory we feel confident they will achieve.

We would likewise call attention to the law upon our statute book which prohibits the selling or giving way of spirituous liquors or intoxicating drinks on the day of election, and suggest the propriety of every citizen seeing to the rigid enforcement of this wholesome law.

The attention of supervisors is called to the fact that they are not required to take what is known as the "iron-clad oath," but the one which has been modified and which is taken by the officers of the State.

We urgently request that reliable, speedy and minute information be furnished us, with the witnesses, of every departure from the line of duty on the part of the Federal supervisors, or of the failure anywhere on the part of the Federal authorities to have provided intelligent men of good character, who can read and write the English language, for supervisors, representing equally the Democratic and Republican parties.

Furthermore we call attention to a series of "instructions to supervisors," issued by the chief supervisor for this District, and while in the main they are not objectionable, yet they are not sufficiently clear in confining the duties of these officers to the Federal elections alone, which no doubt was unintentionally overlooked by their author. The eleventh section of these instructions, however, is peculiarly reprehensible, as it appears to clothe his subordinates with immunities unknown to the law, into which, error he may have been unwittingly led by the accommodating zeal of the United States Attorney-General. The section is as follows:

11. "Supervisors of election, while on duty, are not subject to arrest by any State authority or process whatever, and in no such case should submit to arrest."

It is related that Frederick the Great, on one occasion proposed to take from a poor miller a piece of land near his castle which the miller had refused to sell. But when the messenger informed him of his purpose, the humble peasant drew himself up with dignity and bade him tell Frederick that here was law in Prussia yet, and the Monarch bowed before its majesty. And so we say to any one who enunciates such a proposition as that any officer can defy the law with impunity, resort to ballot-box stuffing, intimidation or any infraction of the criminal law and yet refuse to submit to arrest, "there is law in North Carolina yet," and we hope not even an unbiased moral character lawyer would advise any one to disobey it.

We see no cause for any conflict, and trust that every one will so deport himself as to carry out the law in good faith and with the utmost courtesy and kindliness of feeling, and thus enable us to reap the full benefits of the reform and reconciliation so auspiciously begun in the October elections, and to transmit to posterity the blessings of free government, a paternal union established in the confidence and love of all, strengthened and not impaired by our acts.

In conclusion we urge upon our friends the importance of attending early at the polls, of seeing that every voter favoring reform deposits his ballot in the right box, and that the amendments are fully explained, and their benefits secured by their votes. Neglect nothing, perform your whole duty to your State and country, and all will be well.

W. R. Cox, Chm'n

THE PEOPLE CONGRATULATED.

The National Democratic Committee to the Voters of the United States.

FELLOW CITIZENS:—We congratula you as patriots, as partakers with us in the common destiny of American freemen, upon the results of the October State elections. We rejoice in the victory which the people's ballots have bestowed upon the friends of reform, in the valley of Ohio, where the Republican hosts had an overwhelming ascendancy in every Presidential election since 1856. We rejoice in the assurance these elections convey that your ballots will bestow decisive majorities to the allied forces of Democracy and Reform in the November elections throughout the Union. But we rejoice not as partizans; we rejoice with you as fellow citizens.

And when the decision of this week of one million voters along the valley of the Ohio shall be ratified next month by the fiat of eight million voters throughout the whole republic, we shall still rejoice, chiefly for the reason that not one of its citizens can miss of an equal share with us who are Democrats, in the political peace and good will which will then and there be established among all sections races, classes, and conditions of men, and in the prosperity of which political peace, based on equal rights and fraternal good will, is the first condition.

Upon the three States of West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, were concentrated all the influence of the Administration, all their efforts, and all the vast sums of money forced from the one hundred thousand office holders of the party in power.

These were fearful odds, not again to be contended against so concentrated, for in the November elections the contest will be in every one of the thirty-eight States upon the same day.

Nevertheless, against these odds the Democrats and Reformers of West Virginia and Indiana have been victorious, and in Ohio they have all but rescued a State hitherto deemed hopeless, and have created an assurance of victory in November.

If it falls to our lot as a National Democratic Committee to congratulate the Union upon this victory in the first battle of the reform campaign, it is only because Democrats have been honored to be the leaders of the people in the work of a national regeneration.

The victory won, the victory still to be won, will be a deliverance as much to Republicans as to Democrats.

The patriotic masses of the Republican party may be thankful that the misdeeds of their worthy leaders have been rebuked and are to be arrested. The suffering whites of the South may lift up their heads to greet the dawn of a better day for them, as well as the nation at large. The colored citizen may share the general joy that he will soon cease to be the stock in trade of corrupt politicians, but shall enjoy his rightful liberties and his equality before the law amid universal good will.

As for the Reform Democracy, to whose standard victory has been tied, with all her garlands on, it only remains for them to welcome every ally, every friend, close up the ranks and press on, shoulder to shoulder, under the banner and with one watchword, Reform.

Fellow citizens, peace between all sections; prosperity in all our homes; of these you have been for years deprived by the mistaken solicitudes of patriotic Republicans, played upon by selfish and corrupt leaders, who have kept fanning the dying embers of civil strife in order to escape inspection of the trusts which they have betrayed.

For eleven years you have had the name of peace. At no time have you had the substance of peace. In lieu thereof you have had the grinding taxation and wasteful expenditure of war. Just before every election every year you have had the preaching of a new crusade against a section utterly defeated in war, and anxious only to be completely reconciled in peace.

For eleven years the power of the men who have seized away the control of their party from the heads of its statesmen and founders has been supreme in almost every department of the Federal Government.

Discarding the hope of prolonging their domination by beneficent public measures, they have created and trafficked upon public calamities. The policy they adopted has been worked out. Its failure has been absolute.

In place of past performances these same corrupt and selfish leaders now proffer promises already broken as their titles to further trust.

Having prostrated our manifold industries by the vast aggregates and the worst methods of Federal taxation, they now again solicit your confidence as the instruments of retrenchment and reform.

Having debauched the public service, and having just now, in the face of open day, assessed their army of a hundred thousand office-holders—the people's servants—paid by the people's taxes—in order to create immense corruption funds to frustrate the people's will, they now profess to be the champions of civil service reform. Having imposed upon the Southern States the rapacity, fraud, and plunder of the carpet-bag governments, having almost ruined the prosperity of the South, having created terror, uncertainty, and confusion in all the productive industries of the South, which furnish most of the exports of our whole country, keep in motion the commerce and manufactures of the North and East, and furnish a market for the agricultural products of the west, they now purpose, by renewal of the same fatal policy, to prolong their own power in the hope of concealing their misdeeds, and for this purpose they do not hesitate to renew the cry of intolerance; to revive the dying memories of fraternal strife, and to appeal to the fears and prejudices of the timid and the ignorant.

Fellow citizens, these men and their measures have been completely tried and have completely failed. An oppressive taxation, an exhausted South, an impoverished North, a fluctuating currency, the enterprise of an industrious people locked fast in the paralysis of hard times—such is the outcome of their political policy, such are the achievements of their long supremacy. Your ballots in November can alone dictate a change of measures and a change of men. Shall not the uprising of patriotism along the valley of the Ohio go on to a complete and beneficial revolution in the admini-tration of the Government of the United States? Will you not, by the voice of overwhelming majorities at the polls, proclaim your invincible faith, after all these years of corruption and passion, in the high immortal principles of government by the people for the people, in simple honesty and strict economy, as the supreme wisdom of public policy, in justice as the mother of power, and in civil freedom as the be all and the end-all of a true Republican nationality?

Will you not build up a new prosperity for all the people on the old foundations of American self-government, on peace, reconciliation, and all races embraced within our system of American common wealths; on the frugality and economy in all governments; on honesty and purity of administration, and having lost your prosperity through governmental misrule, regain that prosperity through governmental reform? We commit this great issue to the intelligence and conscience of the American people, and an unfaltering trust in the wisdom and justice of their decision.

By order of the National Democratic Committee.

ABRAM S. HEWITT, Chairman.
FREDERICK O. PRINCE, Secretary.

LOCAL MATTER.

Murder of a Former Resident of Raleigh—Revelations from Dreamland.

A large portion of our citizens remember Frank Barnum. He lived in this city for three years immediately following the close of the war, and during his residence here published, in partnership with D. W. Whitaker, now of Durham, the Giraffe. Not being successful in business here, Mr. Barnum left to try his fortune in the land where he recently met a tragic fate. He was of rather an adventurous disposition, and had traveled extensively in South America and Europe, and his collection of curiosities, gathered during his wanderings, were a source of amusement and interest to the friends to whom, he exhibited them. After Mr. Barnum's departure from this city his friends here lost sight of him, and the following sad lines, conveying the intelligence of his murder, being to to them their first intelligence of him. They are taken from a copy of the Kansas City Times over a week old:

The intelligence received here yesterday afternoon of the murder, at Sweet Springs, of Mr. Frank Barnum, of Barnum's Hotel, of this city, created intense interest and surprise. Mr. Barnum has been a resident of this city for many years, was very generally known, and had hosts of warm and devoted friends. For some time he has been in feeble health In the hope of receiving benefit and repairing his wasted strength he took his departure some weeks since for the "Sweet Springs" at Brownville, in this State. Letters received from time to time by Mrs. Barnum gave the information that he was getting stronger, and felt encouraged to believe that he would receive permanent benefit from his visit to the springs. Recently, however, Mrs. Barnum received from him a letter in which he said he had of late been suffering from terrible dreams. He had dreamed of being attacked by two men, who struck him savagely upon the head. He had also suffered much from sleeplessness. The letter also detailed the strange appearance, the phantom or apparition that had appeared at his bedside, of a young Spanish lady whom he knew when he lived in South America. In one hand she held a cross, in the other a photograph with drops of blood upon it. She spoke to him in Spanish, saying, "Frank, your life is in danger! May God help you!" She then dropped the photograph upon the floor and vanished from sight. He rose from his bed, attempted to pick up the blood-sprinkled photograph, when it disappeared from view. Mr. Barnum, after narrating the above, proceeded to say in his letter that he did not feel alarmed at what he had seen or fancied he had seen. He felt, he wrote, no fear of coming danger. His health was steadily improving, and he spoke of coming home at the last of the week, meaning last Friday or Saturday. Mrs. Barnum, therefore, on Friday went to Lexington to meet her husband and accompany him home. Not meeting him there she thought he might have come by the way of the Missouri Pacific. She telegraphed while at Lexington to the proprietor of the hotel at Brownsville, and received in reply a dispatch stating that Mr. Barnum had started for Kansas City that morning. Mrs. Barnum returned to this city, and, as her husband had not arrived she felt anxious concerning him, and, at her request, Mr. Broach, a boarder at the hotel, left on the first train for Brownsville. * * * * * *

During yesterday afternoon in rapid succession came the following dispatches, addressed to Mr. C. G. Hopkins Mr. Barnum's partner in the hotel business, and to Mrs. Barnum. On receipt of the dreadful news Mrs. Barnum hurried to the depot, but was too late for the train for Lexington.

From a special dispatch from Brownsville it appears that Mr. Barnum was murdered by blows inflicted upon his head—a strange fulfillment of "the terrible dream" narrated in his letter. His watch, a very valuable one, had been taken from his person, together with other articles of jewelry and his pistol. It is hoped that the perpetrators of the horrible crime will be quickly captured, and their just punishment speedily follow.

Cotton Thieves Jugged.

Our fellow-townsman, A. M. McPheeters, has a fine farm, about ten miles north of this city, upon which he generally raises a good crop of cotton. Persistent depredations upon his fields raised his "bile," so last Monday night he set a watch and the result was that he nabbed a couple of cotton thieves. Just after night-fall his guard, a couple of negro employes, caught W. J. Kerr, white, and Wm. Stockard, colored, in a fine field, picking away for dear life. They were carried before Justice of the Peace T. C. Smith, who committed them to jail in default of a $400 bail bond each. They arrived here late Monday night and are now reposing snugly in the county jail. Kerr is said to be a man of desperate character.

Omnibus Accident.

In coming from the depot yesterday afternoon, laden down with passengers, the right hind wheel of the omnibus of the National Hotel came off just in front of the residence of H. Mahler Esq., Fayetteville street. The driver started on a voyage of discovery toward China, but came to anchor without being hurt. The nerves of the passengers were a little jostled, but as soon as they realized the fact that they were still in the land of the living it was all right with them.

The German.

The Eclectic German Club gave their fair week German last night at the National Hotel. The attendance was good and the enjoyment of the evening unalloyed. The ladies were attired with their usual elegance, and never looked more bewitching, while the gentlemen were never more gallant. All present entered the occasion to the full.

IMPORTANT CIRCULAR.

The Vote on the Constitutional Amendments.

Through the courtesy of Major W. H. Bagley, Clerk of the Supreme Court, we have been furnished with a copy of the following important circular from Chief Justice Pearson in relation to the returns of the vote on the constitutional amendments. The sheriffs of the various counties should pay particular attention to it, and we hope our State exchanges will give it a prominent place in their papers:

To the Sheriffs of the Several Counties of North Carolina:

Your attention is directed to Section 2 of an Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to submit to the people the amendments to the Constitution adopted by this Convention," passed by the recent State Convention in this State. By a provision of said section, you are required to make "returns of the whole vote cast for the ratification and for the rejection of said amendments," in your several counties, to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State, at Raleigh, within thirty days after the election.

You will, therefore, forward said returns, within the time specified, to "R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice, (care of the Clerk of the Supreme Court,) Raleigh, North Carolina," and marked, on the outside of the envelope containing the same, the words "Vote on Constitutional Amendments." R. M. PEARSON, Chief Justice.

Meeting of the State Agricultural Society.

The 16th annual meeting of the North Carolina Agricultural Society began last evening at the Hall of the House of Representatives. At 8 o'clock the President, Col. T. M. Holt, of Alamance, called the meeting to order. Capt. C. B. Denson, Secretary of the society, read the minutes of last meeting, last year, which were approved. The following was announced as the programme for future meetings:

This evening Hon. K. P. Battle, President of the State University, delivers an address on the relation of the University to the agricultural interests of the State.

To-morrow evening, at 8 o'clock, immediately following the annual election of the society's officers, Professor, W C Kerr, the State Geologist delivers an address on the climatology of the State. This address was delivered last spring in Baltimore to a large and appreciative audience of scientific people. It is illustrated by a topographical map of the State. It is full of new and interesting truths to North Carolinians.

Friday evening, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Craven, President of Trinity College, will deliver an address, the subject of which we have not been able to ascertain.

On motion of Col. J. M. Heck, a committee of three were appointed to wait on the Principals of the three female colleges in this city, and invite them to bring their pupils to the meetings of the society on the nights named above.

The President appointed as said committee, W. H. Crow, Col. J. M. Heck and R. H. Battle, Jr.,

On motion, the society then adjourned to meet at the same place this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The capitol bell will be rung 15 minutes before the hour of meeting.

Suspended.

For the next three days the county canvass will be suspended on account of the State Fair. The next meeting will be at Cary on Saturday. So far the canvass has been most satisfactory to our friends. The good example set by J. P. H. Adams, of Cary, in withdrawing from the party of civil rights and corruption, is working a good effect. On all sides we hear of white Republicans, and colored in some instances, coming over to the party of reform and honesty. All the indications are now that we will elect our whole county ticket by a decisive majority.

The North Carolina Award.

Governor Brogden has been informed by the Centennial Commission that the Judges have made an award to the North Carolina Geological Survey for its collection of building and ornamental stones. This exhibit was made by Prof. W. C Kerr, our State Geologist. It is owing to Professor Kerr's almost unaided exertions that our State had anything at the Centennial entitling her to an official recognition there. His zeal and activity in endeavoring to bring our resources and advantages before the world deserves the highest meed of praise at our hands.

Cotton.

For the last ten days cotton has been pouring into our market with a rush. Not only are our streets blocked with cotton wagons, but Baptist Grove, now cotton exchange, is literally packed with bales of the kingly staple. No one who does not watch the activity in this branch of trade can form any adequate idea of the business of Raleigh during the fall and winter season. We hope that the prediction of some of our prominent dealers in regard to the shortness of the season will prove to be erroneous.

Firemen's Parade.

To-day the Rescue and Hook and Ladder companies of our fire department parade at the fair grounds at 12:30 o'clock. Dr. Eugene Grissom will make the welcoming address on the part of the Executive Committee of the society. It is said that the parade will be a very handsome one.

FOWLE AT ENFIELD.

[Special Dispatch to the Daily News.]

ENFIELD, Oct. 17th 1876.

Judge Fowle has just closed a magnificent oration to an appreciative and delighted audience. It far surpassed anything that our people ever heard. It will do great good in converting decent Republicans and in arrousing the Democrats to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Words cannot describe his powerful logic and grand flights of eloquence.—Everybody is delighted, and Fowle has made a deep impression upon the hearts of our people. S.

The Centennial Day Declined.

Governor Brogden has imitated Governor Kemper, of Virginia, in declining to name a North Carolina day at the Centennial. This information we derived from the address of His Excellency in opening the State Fair yesterday. Governor Brogden placed the reason for his refusal on the ground that the great majority of our people who could afford the trip to Philadelphia had already gone there, and they could not conveniently go again, and that the few who would attend now on any day named would make but a poor representation, numerically speaking, for such an august occasion.

A Merited Compliment.

The Norfolk Landmark, in its issue of yesterday, pays Hon. D. G. Fowle, of this city, the following handsome and, we are glad to say, merited compliment:

"This brilliant son of the old North State is expected in our city to-morrow, and will address our citizens on the great issues of the present contest. He is called the golden orator of the South, and the fair hands of noble women of his glorious State have wreathed his brow with laurels in testimony of his wonderful eloquence. We hope our city Executive Committee will be able to make such arrangements as will be able to give our ladies an opportunity to hear this distinguished son of Carolina."

Target Practice.

Seven of the shooting team of the Raleigh Light Infantry were out yesterday practicing for the State shooting match to-morrow. This is the score reported:

Lt. Bagley, 5 inches; Sergt. C. D. Upchurch, 6½; G. W. Smith, 6¾; T. W Allen, 7½; Charles Lumsden, 8½; N. G. Whitfield, 14; John Bersley, 26½. The range was 200 yards Pick up, gentlemen, this score won't begin to do.

The Work-House.

Sheriff Dunn came near emptying our jail yesterday morning by the shipment of a cargo of negroes to the county work-house. This is the roll call of the gang: Willis Utley, two months; Charles Ray, one year and a half; John Bobbitt, three months; George Young, two months; Henry Horton, three months; George Crudup, three months; Sidney Herndon, five months. Thus it will be seen that seven voters have been lost to the party of great moral ideas.

Cotton Burned.

Yesterday afternoon, just before the extra freight on the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line Railroad reached Lashley's ✕ Roads, a pile of cotton on one of the flats was discovered to be on fire, having caught, it is supposed, from a spark. As soon as the station was reached the pile, thirty-one bales, was thrown off and hands at once set to work to save all that could be. Up to the time of going to press we had not been able to ascertain the actual amount of the loss.

Visitors to the Fair.

The special fair trains on the different railroads leading into this city brought yesterday quite a large number of visitors. Though none of them were crowded, yet the number was considerably larger than on any previous first day of the fair. All the present indications point to a much larger attendance of visitors than was at first anticipated. It is more than probable that the crowd will be as large as that of last year.

Adjourned.

The grand jury has adjourned sine die. During their session they found 47 true bills, a majority of them for larceny. Defendants in nine cases out of ten are negroes, all of whom are dead against the constitutional amendments.

Democratic Electoral Canvass.

Fabius H Busbee, Democratic candidate for Elector in the Fourth Congressional District, will address the people at the following times and places:

Rocky Mount, Nash county, Monday, Oct 23.
Nashville, Nash county, Tuesday, Oct 26
Hare's Store, Johnston county, Thursday, Oct. 26.
Pleasant Grove, Johnston county, Saturday, Oct. 28.
Hillsboro, Orange county, Tuesday, Oct. 31.
Haywood, Chatham county, Thursday, Nov. 2.
Franklinton, Franklin county, Friday, Nov. 3.
Rolesville, Wake county, Saturday, Nov 4.

Time will be divided with Mr. Strayhorn, the Republican candidate, if he is present.

Compound Extract Corydalis will cure those cases of chronic or "Fever Sores" which are so annoying to the afflicted.

CANTRELL'S X ROADS, Tenn., December 26, 1874.

DRS. GREENE, LINDLEY AND BENTLEY:

Gents: My leg has about healed up, and I think it will be permanent. I never saw or tried anything that came up to your Comp. Ex Corydalis. My opinion is, if any one has sores that it can't cure they had better quit doctoring

The President's Proclamation.

CAMERON'S ORDER.

Troops Ordered to South Carolina—Chamberlain to Be Counted In by the Bayonet—A Military Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—There was a full cabinet meeting to-day except Fish.

Chandler leaves to-night for New York.

The President has issued a proclamation in regard to South Carolina. After a long preliminary referring to the state of affairs in S. C., the proclamation demands all persons engaged in said unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings to disperse and retire peacefully to their respective homes within three days from this date, and hereafter abandon said combinations and submit themselves to the laws and constituted authorities of said State, and invokes the aid and co-operation of all good citizens thereof to uphold the laws and preserve the public peace.

LATER.

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 17.

Gen'l W. T. Sherman, Commanding United States Army:

SIR—In view of the existing condition of affairs in South Carolina, there is a possibility that the proclamation of the President of this date may be disregarded. To provide against such a contingency, you will immediately order all the available force in the military division of the Atlantic to report to General Ruger, commanding at Columbia, and instruct that officer to station his troops in such localities that they may be most speedily and effectually used in case of resistance to the authority of the United States of America. It is hoped that a collision may be avoided, but you will instruct General Ruger to let it be known that it is the fixed purpose of the government to carry out fully the spirit of the proclamation and to sustain it by the military force of the general government supplemented, if necessary, by the militia of the various States.

Very respectfully,
[signed] G. D. CAMERON.
Secretary of War.

FOREIGN.

Russia on the Borrow—Bank Busted—Cossacks to the Front—The Policy of Conquest—The Pall Mall Gazette Level Headed—Another Stale Rehash from English Papers.

LONDON, Oct 17.—The Times Berlin special says, that after spending twenty millions of rubles in three months in attempting to maintain the nominal value of paper currency, the St. Petersburg National Bank has avowed its inability to proceed with the operations and will no longer pay gold for paper. It is believed that the Russian government is trying to obtain a loan from Holland.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs that the Czar favors peace, but it is known that the Empress and Czarewitch are strongly attached to the national party and are exerting their efforts to advance its objects.

The Times Belgrade dispatch states that 4,000 Cossacks arrived at Kladova last week, bringing 700 horses. They marched to Deligrad. A thousand more were expected yesterday.

A Berlin dispatch to the Times says that Col. Detaskoff's mission in behalf of Russia will address itself particularly to the military party in the Austrian Court, who advise making common cause with Russia and introducing the policy of conques'.

The Pall-Mall Gazette, this afternoon, in a leading article, concludes that Russia is at present actually at war with Turkey, and that any further efforts at diplomacy are useless.

The St. Petersburg Journal, a semi-official paper, says there are indications that the people of Constantinople regard a war as unavoidable, and welcome. The Russians' decision is to finish the matter without delay. The meeting of Russian statesmen at Lividia indicates a crisis in our politics. This meeting represents official Russia, assembled in view of the Bosphorous and the seat of war.

The St. Petersburg letter to the Times, dated October 11th, says: "Doubtless the general impression here is that Russia is on the eve of the long wished for struggle with Turkey."

A special dispatch to the Times, from Vienna, states that the English and French Governments, especially the former, have decidedly pronounced for the acceptance of six months' armistice. Austria is inclined to do likewise, and has asked Germany's opinion, which, however, has not yet been given. Italy on being pressed by England to give a definite reply says it does not want in any way to anticipate Servia's decision as it regards an armistice as disadvantageous to Servia.

A Reuter telegram from Bucharist announces that a convention has been concluded between the Roumanian and Russian Railway Companies, by which the former undertake to hold in readiness, at disposal of Russia, sufficient trains to transport 4,000 troops daily.

CHAMBERLAIN'S TEACHINGS.

Whites Murdered in South Carolina—The Negroes Make a Premeditated Onslaught.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 16.—Negroes belonging to the State militia had their arms concealed near a joint meeting at Cainhoy, nine miles from Charleston, at which, by agreement, both parties appeared unarmed. A disturbance occurring the militia obtained their arms and commenced firing from bushes, killing two and wounding fourteen whites. Eighty armed whites left the city to secure the bodies and protect the people in the vicinity of Cainhoy.

Destructive Fire in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 16.—The most destructive fire which has visited Louisville in many years occurred at 1 o'clock this morning. The flames were discovered in Hecht & Harris' clothing house, thence communicating to Davis & Haddin's liquor store, Carson & Daniel's grocery, and A. Levy's clothing house. All these establishments represent large wholesale firms and were in one block, owned by Thorner & Co., of Cincinnati. The flames spread across the street to another block, damaging the Alexander Hotel, George W. Wicks & Co.'s tobacco and cotton house, C. J. Oliver's hardware store, the Falls City furniture factory and other houses. The loss will exceed $600,000, with very heavy insurance.
